

7-31-1912

Bulloch Times

Notes

Condition varies. Some pages missing or in poor condition.

Originals provided for filming by the publisher.

Gift of Statesboro Herald and the Bulloch County Historical Society.

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/bulloch-news-issues>

---

Recommended Citation

"Bulloch Times" (1912). Bulloch County Newspapers (Single Issues). 531.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/bulloch-news-issues/531>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Bulloch County Historical Newspapers at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in Bulloch County Newspapers (Single Issues) by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Natty Summer Styles

CARRYING with them a suggestion of grace, beauty and elegance; smart, low cut tops, snugly fitting the ankle without gaps—real oxfords. Shoes naturally intended for summer, because they are cool and comfortable. You will find that you will not only receive most solicitous attention at our store, but you will get the benefit of our long experience in fitting shoes; and a purchase at our store will be an event of mutual benefit.

THE RACKET STORE

L. T. DENMARK, Proprietor

AS MOTHER LAY DYING, LITTLE GIRL PRAYED FOR HER

MEANTIME HUSBAND RAGED TO REACH DYING WIFE'S BEDSIDE

Atlanta, July 22.—While doctors bent over a little white cot in the Atlanta hospital, battling heroically to prolong the life of Mrs. Maud Overby, who tossed in agony from burns caused by an explosion of a kerosene lamp at her home at noon Saturday, little Anita, her 2-year-old daughter, prayed to God to deliver her mamma from death.

"Please, God, don't take my mamma away from me and my papa," she prayed.

The baby also prayed for God to send her papa home to her. He is in Lexa, Ark., and when he was informed that his wife was perhaps fatally burned he returned word that he was hastening back to Atlanta. The surgeons at the Atlanta hospital, where Mrs. Overby was taken at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, fortified with all the aids known to medical skill, exerted all their energies to keep alive the little spark of life until the husband arrived.

At midnight it looked as though the battle would be lost. But little Anita continued her prayers.

Mrs. Overby, who is but 22 years old, was preparing to make a trip to the shopping district, when the lamp upon which she was heating a pair of curling irons exploded.

Her flimsy clothing caught fire, and after she made a vain attempt to extinguish the flames she ran through the house screaming. Neighbors hastened into the house, but the terrified woman ran from them to the front porch. Several gentlemen who were passing went to the aid of the woman, and with the aid of a blanket they succeeded in smothering the fire.

The woman was hurried to the Atlanta hospital. Her clothing was almost burned away from the body. Her face, arms and legs were frightfully burned, and surgeons declared after an examination that she had swallowed some of the fire.

At an early hour Sunday morning surgeons at the hospital declared that there was little hope for the recovery of the patient. They were bending all their energies in an effort to prolong life until the arrival of J. L. Overby, a railroad man.

NO SECOND DIVORCE ALLOWED IN PARIS

FRENCH LAW BARS SEPARATION AFTER RE-MARRIAGE

Paris, July 20.—According to French law, husband and wife who have been once divorced, and who, after due reflection, have found out that they can do no better for themselves, and have married each other for a second time, cannot be divorced again. Sixteen years ago a gentleman who could not put up with the freaks of his wife sought and obtained a divorce, but after a year's reflection he forgave her, and they went again before the mayor.

It was not long, however, before Madame broke loose again, and tried the patience of her husband beyond endurance. He applied to the court for a remedy, but was told all it could do for him was to pronounce a separation, although he would always be obliged to pay her alimony. He agreed, and years went on, and the lady also went on disgracing the name she still bore. The man again repaired to the tribunal and said: "My wife, who is separated from me, but who is still my wife, and whose husband I still am, continues dishonoring me. What am I to do?" to which the magistrate replied: "You must go on paying her allowance, because she has evidently need of it, but we will forbid her to use your name."

The woman is now in a position that has never been provided for by legislation. She is not divorced, and never can be, and neither she nor her husband can ever marry again. Yet she is more than separated, because she cannot use her husband's name. She comes under no category, being neither spinster, wife, nor divorced, and she stands for a class that may be termed the "semi-divorced."

Titanic's Captain is Alive, Says a Baltimore Skipper

London, July 22.—The story told by Captain Peter Pryal, of Baltimore, to the effect that he met Captain Smith, the commander of the Titanic, who was supposed to have gone down with his vessel, on the streets of Baltimore on Friday last and talked with him, was received with incredulity at the offices of the White Star Line here today.

"We have heard nothing to indicate that Smith did not meet death when the Titanic went down," said the manager. "This Baltimore Captain's story must be either the result of a delusion or mistaken identity."

Captain Pryal had stated that he sailed with Captain Smith when the latter commanded the Majestic; that he met him on the street in Baltimore Friday, talked with him and watched him depart for Washington.

Suction in Drain Pipe Pulls Man to His Death

New York, July 21.—Robert M. Kinsela was drowned today on top of a twelve-story building in which he lived on East Sixteenth street. He had gone to the roof to release a foot and a half of water which had collected there after the drain pipe became clogged. He ran his right arm down into the drain pipe and as he released the rubbish the suction of the rushing water caught him. His arm was drawn in up to his shoulder and became wedged in the pipe.

Three companions strove frantically but vainly to release the imprisoned man. The suction held him in the pipe and his head was drawn into the water which still remained on the roof, causing him to drown.

Use 4less
EAGLE-THISTLE SODA
Pure Fresh

HAD A NUMEROUS PROGENY

From Female Kidnaped in Peking in 1861 All Chinese Lap Dogs in the West Are Descended.

Peking dogs, as they formerly were called—otherwise, Chinese lap dogs—have a curious history. On October 3, 1861, an Anglo-French soldier ransacked the imperial summer palace at Peking and took back to his captain a little dog that was supposed to have belonged to the empress. At any rate, her majesty made frantic attempts to recover the little creature, and the English officer finally struck a bargain, through Chinese emissaries, that it be sent as a present from the Chinese ruler to her majesty, Queen Victoria of England.

Good feeling was thus established all around, and the little dog, bearing the name of Looty, was domiciled at Buckingham palace. He was a very pretty little creature, the other dogs taking exception to his oriental habits and appearance, and when the prince and princess of Wales returned from a continental trip the latter pleaded with her mother-in-law to be allowed to take Looty to Sandringham. About six months later Looty's mate arrived from China, and the breeding of this species of dog became a diversion in fashionable society.

Not many years ago a number of ladies got together material for a dog show and called it an "Association of the Dog From the Palace of Peking." Looty, who had long since passed to the future good or evil place for dogs, was represented by a very numerous progeny. From Looty, indeed, all Chinese dogs known to Europe and America are descended—Harpers Weekly.

COOKED EGGS ON FLATIRON

With the Gas Stove Frozen Up, New Yorker Proved Himself Equal to the Emergency.

The prolonged cold spell this winter sharpened the wits of many persons who never before had any idea of the uses to which electricity could be put. When the gas gave out in cooking stoves owing to the pipes being frozen—as it did in hundreds of houses—there was a rush for electric cooking utensils.

But sometimes the emergency arose when it was not possible to buy such things in time. One such case occurred at breakfast time and left the family with nothing on which to cook eggs. The master of the house knew they had an electric flatiron. He told them to invert it and cook the eggs on its polished underface, which was done without difficulty. Small pancakes and toast were cooked in the same way.

Another resourceful man used a flatiron to thaw out a frozen radiator, while yet another, in order to make his stagnant air in a room, placed an electric fan on the floor and directed a blast of air against the radiator. The effect of this was to raise the temperature of the room 25 degrees in half an hour.

Her Reward.

The cook for a well-known Seattle family, and no other could be obtained, so the lady of the house did the cooking herself, with such satisfactory results that, after a month, her husband gave her a beautiful set of silver as a token of his appreciation of the good dinners he had enjoyed.

Of course the neighbors soon heard of this, and when the cook left in another equally well-known family that lady of that house said to her husband:

"Well, the cook has gone and I'm going to bother to get another. I'm going to do the cooking myself. You heard what Mr. So-and-so said his wife when she did the cooking?"

And, putting her arms round his neck, she cooed: "What shall I get for my cooking?"

"Woman," said her husband, pushing her away, "you will get a long, black veil!"—Saturday Evening Post.

One Good Deed to Her Record.

Tai An, the late empress of China, has not always been regarded as a model of the gentler virtues, and yet there is a story to the effect that each year on her birthday she was in the habit of buying from her own private purse 10,000 captive birds and setting them free, praying to the gods as she opened each cage that they might not be caught again.

At the Flower Ball. The Snapper looked indignantly across the room. "Johnny-Jump-Up," she called, "go over to that Chinese Vice corner and tell one of those Snappers to get Sweet William away from those Wall-flowers."

SAVANNAH AND STATESBORO RY.

Voting Contest

Beginning July 1st this company will open up a voting contest for the most popular young lady living in Statesboro, and on October 1st a diamond ring valued at $100 will be presented to the one receiving the greatest number of votes. The pink notices of arrival of freight, which are sent out by this company, will be mailed daily to consignees in Statesboro, and after serving their purpose they will be used as voting coupons, and will be deposited by the contestants in a box located in Dekle's Jewelry Store. The standing of the contestants will be published weekly, as the voting progresses. A disinterested committee will make the final count and award.

D. N. BACOT, Superintendent

Sheriff's Sales.
On the first Tuesday in August, next, J. H. Donaldson, sheriff, will sell the following property at public outcry before the court house door:

The printing outfit complete of the Statesboro News, comprising press, folder, type, cases, stones, frames, etc.; leveled on by virtue of an execution against the Statesboro News, a corporation, and J. L. Mathews, Hinton Booth and J. G. Blitch, individually.

One tract of land in the 45th district, containing 12 acres more or less; the property of Jim Davis; levy in favor of R. N. Williams.

One red mare mule named Babe, and one mouse-colored mare mule named Mollie; the property of William Moore; levy in favor of D. Barnes.

One black mare mule named Bessie, also one buggy, and harness; the property of A. J. Moore; levy in favor of D. Barnes.

For sale by LIVELY'S DRUG STORE, Opp. Bank of Statesboro
Screen Your House.

Keep out the flies and mosquitoes by screening your doors and windows. Protect your family from typhoid and other diseases chargeable to the deadly house fly. A few dollars spent in screens will save you many dollars in doctor's bills. I make screens to order. Full equipment of machinery. We will call and measure your doors and windows. Prices as low as on screens manufactured elsewhere. I use only best materials. Satisfaction guaranteed. Patronize a home industry. GIVE ME A TRIAL.

HENRY K. HULST, Agent, STATESBORO, GA.
Vine St., Near Cotton Warehouse.

For sale by LIVELY'S DRUG STORE, Opp. Bank of Statesboro
Freckled Girls

It is an absolute fact, that one 50 cent jar of WILSON'S FRECKLE CREAM will either remove your freckles or cause them to fade and that no jar will ever in the most severe case completely cure them. We are willing to personally guarantee this to return your money without argument if your complexion is not truly restored to its natural beauty.

WILSON'S FRECKLE CREAM is fine, fragrant and absolutely harmless. Will not make hair grow but will positively remove TAN, PIMPLES and FRECKLES. Come today and try it. The jars are large and results absolute by certain. Sent by mail if desired. Price 50c. Nantuxh jars $1.00. WILSON'S FAIR SKIN SOAP 25c.

For sale by W. H. ELLIS CO., Statesboro, Ga.

Excursion Fares

Via Central of Georgia Railway.
To Atlanta, Ga., account biennial meeting Grand United Order of Odd Fellows (col.), to be held Sept. 9-12, 1912.
To Chattanooga, Tenn., account National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools, to be held July 24-28, 1912.
To Florida, Ga., account Annual Indian Spring Holiness Campmeeting, to be held Aug. 9-18, 1912. Fares apply from points in Georgia.

For full information in regard to rates, dates of sale, limits, schedules, etc., apply to nearest ticket agent.

For Rent

Will rent cheap, a four-room cottage on large lot in East Statesboro, good out building.

H. E. CARTLEDGE, R. F. D. No. 7, Statesboro, Ga.

TYBEE
WHERE OCEAN BREEZES BLOW

THE QUEEN OF SOUTH ATLANTIC SEASHORE RESORTS

EXCURSION FARES VIA CENTRAL OF GEORGIA
ASK THE TICKET AGENT

J. O. HAILE, General Passenger Agent, SAVANNAH, GA.
F. J. ROBINSON, Asst. General Passenger Agent, SAVANNAH, GA.

Success Comes Quickest

to the man who has a checking account with a good bank;

Because he has a constant incentive to increase his balance and develop his resources, and because he has the co-operation of the bank in doing so.

A checking account opened at this bank, and conducted with financial betterment in view, will help put you in the successful class.

Begin now, even if with a modest sum.

Sea Island Bank

PREACHER WOULD HAVE OLD MAIDS SENT TO ISLAND

ADVANCES PROPOSITION THAT THEY ARE WASTE PRODUCT

Grand Junction, Colo., June 26.—Undaunted by the comment of Miss Helen Gould upon his recent sermon, in which he asserted that old maids should be isolated upon a barren island as a waste product, Rev. Elmer F. Huffner, of the First Christian church, today insisted that old maids are a detriment and menace to society, and advised Miss Gould to seek a mate incognito in the backwoods.

"Miss Gould is a noble woman," he said; "but her nobleness would be greatly enhanced were she married. I do not attempt to dictate to Miss Gould what she should or should not do. Miss Gould has done more good for humanity than any other bachelor girl in this age, and she shall do unlimited good."

"No woman has done her duty to the world until she has borne children. Miss Gould is in a peculiar position because of her riches. She cannot be sure she is being wooed for love alone. The only way to solve this problem is for Miss Gould to accept a position in the backwoods incognito. Here she might find the right one—a righteous, industrious man who would love her for her true self and not for her wealth."

"What the world owes to invalids would provide material for one of the most remarkable treatises ever written. I am not sure that for intellectual efficiency some little abnormality of the flesh is not a prerequisite."

Dr. Smith instances Kant, Herbert, Spencer and Isaac Newton. Then, arguing that talent is not inherited, Dr. Smith asserted:

"Neither Luther, Napoleon nor Abraham Lincoln was anything less than a surprise. Beethoven, Mozart and Wagner could no more have been predicted than Shakespeare or Michael Angelo."

Alleged Embezzler Was Caught After 13 Years

New York, July 19.—The woolen firm of Goodman Brothers found a shortage of $30,000 in their books thirteen years ago and swore out a warrant against their bookkeeper, James Fisher, who had power to sign checks and had much to do with the firm's finances. They never caught him, however, for he left his house by the back door without coat or collar as a detective called at the front entrance and from then the police got no trace of him until last night, when the two Goodman brothers, riding in a Broadway street car, saw a man whom they decided was their missing bookkeeper.

They had him arrested. The prisoner said he was Thomas Fisher, a liquor dealer. He admitted that he had worked for Goodman brothers, but said that he was a brother of the man the police were looking for. A detective, however, positively identified him from a photograph as the missing bookkeeper.

The Complete Silver Service in one Design

It is something that would give keenest pleasure all your life and become a treasured heirloom.

The complete service need not be purchased at once. There are many beautiful patterns in Sterling Silver that will be continued for years to come because of their artistic perfection. You can safely start your set with Knives, Forks or Spoons in any of these designs and add to it at convenient times until the service is complete.

Come in and examine our patterns in Sterling Silver. Perhaps you already have pieces of a pattern you especially like that we can match if you are ready to add to the set—that is much more than likely.

D. R. Dekle
Jeweler
Bank of Statesboro New Building

MEASURE MEANS MUCH FOR FARMERS OF U. S.

SMITH-LEVER BILL PLANS WIDE SCOPE OF UTILITY

Washington, D. C., July 28.—The Lever-Smith agricultural extension bill, introduced in the house and senate respectively by representative Lever, of South Carolina, and Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, is scheduled for early passage. It embraces a subject far-reaching and important to the entire world in its purpose, scope and influence. By the operation of the plan embodied in the measure, the authors and supporters of the bill expect to see a rehabilitation, conservation and utilization of the soil resources of the United States that will mean a vast increase of farm products, reduction of the cost of production, greater returns to the farmer for his efforts while reducing the actual cost to the consumer, and an increase of many millions of dollars of American farm products annually, and the reduction of the vast amount of farm products imported each year by the people of the United States, all by the direct application of the principles of scientific farming. How will this be brought about?

According to the provisions of the bill, the federal government inaugurates a system by which each state in the union receives a fixed annual appropriation of $10,000, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a farm demonstration service. The state, through its agricultural college, can proceed to the selection and appointment of a trained agriculturist, one who is equipped and qualified to give in actual demonstration and personal application the result of the vast work of research and analysis, tests and finding, that has marked the progress of scientific agriculture in recent decades, and since the establishment of the department of agriculture, the state college of agriculture and the experiment stations.

With the application of the system to the various communities, each state respectively receives federal co-operation and support to the extent of its own inclination, and according to the provisions of the Lever-Smith bill the annual appropriation of $10,000 remains a permanent item. Beyond that the government will support the new system equally with the state adopting it. A skilled farm demonstrator, under the system, will eventually be installed in each agricultural county in the United States, a public servant working with the people or the community, giving individual demonstration to each farmer of the most advanced theories, principles and practices of scientific farming. The federal and state support is based on agricultural population and has been figured to come computation. As an illustration the figures show 53.7 total rural population of the United States. Of this Pennsylvania has 6.15 per cent, and is allotted $184,500 of the appropriation for the maintenance of the skilled farm demonstrator service, provided the state of Pennsylvania appropriates a like amount, with the annual item of $10,000 added. On the other hand, with Nevada recording .14 per cent, of the total rural population its allotment is $4,200.

This bill was prepared and introduced after an exhaustive consideration by many bodies and individuals, embracing financial, industrial, commercial, economic, educational and representative agricultural interests, basing argument on the combined subject of domestic production, soil resource and food

GIRL WHO WAS WHIPPED WILL SUE FOR BIG DAMAGES

DAWSON FATHER ASKED TO PAY FOR EFFORTS TO RECLAIM SON

Dawson, Ga., July 22.—Essie Carter, the young woman of the Dawson restricted district, said to have been horse-whipped Saturday night by W. S. Dozier, clerk of the superior court in Dawson, has engaged R. D. Feagin as her attorney and suits for damages will be filed in the United States courts within a few weeks against Mr. Dozier. It is said the plaintiff may ask for $25,000, although the amount of damages to be demanded has not yet been decided upon by the attorney and his client.

The suit will be brought in the western division of the northern district of Georgia and will in all likelihood be heard before Judge Newman, of Atlanta, at Columbus. It will be brought in the United States courts on the ground of the diversity of citizenship, the girl being from South Carolina. The name of her native town was withheld last night, as she wishes to keep the news of her case from her parents.

Whether or not any criminal action will be taken against the man who is said to have whipped the Carter girl is not known now. That rests with the solicitor general of the circuit in which the whipping took place. The action to be brought by Mr. Feagin will be purely a suit for damages.

The Carter woman was considerably improved last night. She was able to sit up in her bed for short intervals, but is still suffering great pain she says, and is still weak and shaken from the shock of the beating.

The whipping is said to have been administered by Mr. Dozier in an attempt to drive the Carter woman from Dawson. Vogt Dozier, the son of the superior court clerk, is alleged to have been infatuated with Essie Carter. She was brought to Macon Sunday and is now being cared for in a house on lower Cherry street.

Watson Not to Speak. Thomson, Ga., July 27th.

EDITOR BULLOCH TIMES, Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Sir: Please state that some confusion has arisen in reference to the date on which I was to visit Statesboro.

Fearing that this would injure the meeting, or cause it to be a failure, I have called it off, and have promised to speak at Oliver on the 23rd of August.

I will thank you to make a note of this in an early edition of your paper. Very truly yours,

THOS. E. WATSON.

Are You One of These?

Every living person has the pet pipe dream that some day he's going to be rich. He spends more time thinking about what he'll do with the money than how he'll get it. The poor-houses are filled with people who imagined that their ship was coming in and sat around waiting for it. For one person who gets rich by inheritance or sudden means, thousands do not. Most of us never will be worth more than we save. The knowledge of this may hurt, but it's high time some of us found it out.

supply. Bankers, railroad presidents, farmers, college professors, representatives of boards of trade and commercial civic organizations and others have joined in subscribing to the merits and logical advantages of this legislative proposition. Non-political and non-factional, the proposition goes before the people of the country as one well worthy of immediate adoption.

That dream
will sure come true if you put money in the bank

Yes! That home you think of buying when you have the price, need not be a dream for long if you open a bank account. Even a dollar will start that. Economize on your expenditure and today—here—where we welcome just such accounts as yours. We will help you.

First National Bank of Statesboro

Capital $50,000.00 Surplus $10,000.00
J. E. McCRON Vice-President W. O. ROBERTS Cashier
BROOKS SIMMONS President J. W. JOHNSON, JR. Asst. Cashier
F. P. REGISTER JAS. B. RUSHING M. G. BRANNEN P. E. FIELD W. W. WILLIAMS W. H. SIMMONS

Sylvania Lady Loses Big Damage Suit

Sylvania, Ga., July 26.—In the damage suit against the Sylvania and Girard Railway company, brought by Mrs. Valio Morel, wife of Mr. J. J. B. Morel, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant company. The amount sued for was $20,000 for alleged damages which Mrs. Morel sustained as the result of an overturned seat in the waiting room at the Sylvania office, where she had gone to board the train for Hawkinsville. The jury was out but 20 minutes.

Mrs. Morel was represented by Judge E. K. Overstreet, while Judge J. W. Overstreet and White & Lovett appeared for the defense. A motion for new trial was made, and will be heard before Judge H. B. Strange at Statesboro, Judge H. A. Boykin being disqualified to try the case.

They will be at the following places: Court house, Statesboro, August 5th (Monday) at 10 a. m.

Deal Local of the Farmers Union, Aug. 6th, 9 a. m.

Portals, Aug. 6th, 3 p. m.

Bird Academy, Aug. 7th, 9 a. m.

Kingery School House, Aug. 7th, 3 p. m.

Metter, Aug. 8th, 9 a. m.

Register, Aug. 8th, 3 p. m.

Newcast Local (Central Academy), Aug. 9th, 9 a. m.

Brooklet, Aug. 9th, 5 p. m.

D. E. BIRD, S. L. NEVILL, O. T. HARPER.

MEETINGS OF COTTON GROWERS AND FACTORS

TO BE HELD IN BULLOCH COUNTY DURING WEEK BEGINNING AUG. 5TH

Mr. H. T. Morrison, a prominent sea island cotton grower of South Carolina, will spend the week beginning Aug. 5th in Bulloch county, explaining the plan of marketing cotton through the National Warehouse System, both sea island and upland cotton. This company will this year operate throughout the cotton belt, having grown out of the Mississippi Warehouse Corporation, which has been successfully handling cotton three years in Mississippi and parts of adjoining states. It has ample backing behind it.

Cotton growers and handlers, bankers and all others interested in the price of cotton are urged to meet Mr. Morrison. He will be accompanied by Mr. J. N. Sullivan, president of the Union Sea Island Cotton Co., of Savannah.

They will be at the following places: Court house, Statesboro, August 5th (Monday) at 10 a. m.

Deal Local of the Farmers Union, Aug. 6th, 9 a. m.

Portals, Aug. 6th, 3 p. m.

Bird Academy, Aug. 7th, 9 a. m.

Kingery School House, Aug. 7th, 3 p. m.

Metter, Aug. 8th, 9 a. m.

Register, Aug. 8th, 3 p. m.

Newcast Local (Central Academy), Aug. 9th, 9 a. m.

Brooklet, Aug. 9th, 5 p. m.

D. E. BIRD, S. L. NEVILL, O. T. HARPER.

BABY'S HEALTH

Don't Take Chances

When baby's health is in question, you can't afford to take chances—it isn't necessary—it isn't even economical. You can't blame the doctor if baby's prescription is improperly filled by a bungling drug mixer.

Scrupulous Accuracy

is the first essential of successful drug compounding. Your physician's prescription, carefully compounded with fresh, pure drugs, will safeguard baby's health.

LIVELY'S DRUG STORE
Statesboro, Ga.
Complete line of the well-known Penslar Remedies

The canning season is here. Let us supply you with jars, rubbers and tops; we have a large supply, and will make you close prices.

We have a good, clean, fresh supply of groceries all the time.

We appreciate your patronage at all times, and will make it to your advantage to trade with us.

Get the Clito Habit—it will save you money.

McDougald, Outland & Company

BULLOCH TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1892.

Published Weekly By The BULLOCH TIMES PUBLISHING CO.
D. B. TURNER, Editor and Manager.
SUBSCRIPTION, $1.00 PER YEAR.

Entered as second class matter March 25, 1905, at the postoffice at Statesboro, Ga., under the Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 21, 1912.

A man is always disgusted with the man he can't convince.

A warm heart will keep out most of the coldness of this old world.

It's the things that you do not tell that show how much you know.

The more we aggravate someone else when we are mad the more it soothes us.

The necessities of life cost all we can afford and the luxuries of life keep us poor.

It is easier to get a promise of $25 six months from now than it is to collect $1 cash.

It is lots easier to denounce a person than to praise him, and an audience is easier to hold.

Some people cuss the other fellow's good luck almost as much as they do their own bad luck.

A man who can't stand it to have things go against him will never make a success of life.

It is a sad setback to your pride to have some roughneck outdo you in politeness to the gentler sex.

The person who radiates sunshine on the outside will generally be found pure and clean inside.

We about our denunciations to the seething masses; our praises we whisper to the soothing forests.

A person talks more presumptuous to the man who owes him money than to the person he owes money.

The trouble with this old world is that there are too many bald heads and not enough people raising heirs.

No man ought to make the same mistake twice—considering how many people there are to tell him about it.

No person ever gets so rough or bad but there is a spot somewhere that can be touched by kindness and charity.

Most every girl before she marries plans on the many little charities she will do when she gets her husband's money to spend.

When we get enough money so that we will feel that we can give some of it away, there'll probably be no one around needing it.

The people who holler the loudest for the spending of public monies are also the ones who holler the loudest about paying their taxes.

Human beings are said to emit a certain amount of light. In the olden days of witchcraft they used to make torches out of the human body.

If older people were scolded as much as children, for doing the very same things, they would get disgusted with life. Youth's buoyant spirit soon rises above the rebuffs.

Be cautious when your wife begins bragging to the neighbors about what strong arms and wonderful staying powers you have. She may have a carpet for you to demonstrate on.

The three greatest things are faith, hope and charity, and are usually used in the order named. When we hear of a fellow down on his luck, we first have faith in his ability to pull out, then hope that he will come out all right, and may finally give the charity needed in the first place.

Sectionalism Dying Out.

It is a pleasing thought that sectionalism is fast dying out. The best evidence of this is that when a rabid South-hater from the north, or a Yankee-hater from the South, opens his mouth in a tirade against the section of his hatred, he is looked upon with scorn by the conservative masses of his own section. These manifestations of hatred are growing less frequent on both sides of the Mason and Dixon's line, and the further we get away from the period of the 60's, the less will be heard of it.

In the recent campaign for a presidential nominee, many of our people held that the country is now united—that there is no longer a North or South. In the same breath they advocated a certain candidate because he was a Southerner; and then opposed the nomination of a certain other candidate because he had lived part of his life in the North. The inconsistency of their own argument never occurred to them. They could never realize that sectionalism is just as despicable in the South as it is in the North, and that it will exist on one side of the Mason and Dixon's line as long as on the other.

The country is to be congratulated, though, that the acute hatred is almost dead on both sides. The South is glad she does not longer harbor it, and she can well afford to pity the man on the other side who is so narrow that he nurses it in his bosom. Just as an example, though, of this rapidly diminishing species, the following is interesting:

In a speech before a gathering of New Yorkers, laying plans for the campaign of the "Progressive Republican Party," General Sickles vigorously waves the "bloody shirt" and is cheered to the echo. "We northerners," he said, "are never disposed to put a man reared in the Confederacy, so to speak, in the White House. It is the first time since the war a Southern man has been nominated for the presidency. Mr. Wilson is a nice man, he is an honest man and an affable man; however, Mr. Wilson was born and reared in rebel surroundings. He was born and reared on the wrong side.

"We wish no repetition of the secession movement. The nation is one and inseparable now and forever. This is the determination of the Progressive Party."

A Big Success.
"Des Arc, Ark., July 21, 1908.—Please ship at once six dozen Mendenhall's Chili Tonic. It proves a success everywhere we have sold it. Kindly rush out this order at once. Hayley, Reine & Co." Sold by druggists.

Church Re-Union.
TO ALL MEMBERS OF EXCELSIOR BAPTIST CHURCH, EXCELSIOR, GA.:
You are cordially invited to be present on Tuesday, August 13th, 1912, at which time there will be a church re-union. A special feature of this occasion will be a roll call and all members and former members of the church are earnestly requested to be present. Dinner on the ground. COMMITTEE.

For 15 Years a Leader.
"Piggott, Ark., Jan. 19, 1909.—Ship one gross Mendenhall's Chili Tonic on best terms and dating. We have been selling your chili tonic on a guarantee for 15 years and it gives universal satisfaction. It is the leader here. J. P. Potter, Druggist." Sold by druggists.

Game Wardens to Collect Dog Tax
State Game Warden Mercer says that if his deputy game wardens had the collection of the dog tax he could give them half and then turn in $190,000 to the state. The house ways and means committee wants him to have a trial at it and has recommended a bill placing the duty of collecting this tax on the deputy game wardens and allowing them 25 per cent. The tax now pays about $115,000 and not more than one-third the dogs are returned for taxation.

For Sale.
1 good grist mill, 2 Davis gins, belting, sheafing and pulleys.
P. A. HAGIN,
Rte. No. 1, Groveland, Ga.

STATESBORO TOOK TWO IN SERIES WITH MILLEN

HOME TEAM AND VISITORS NOW STANDING WITH TWO GAMES EACH

By taking two of the games in the last series, played Thursday and Friday afternoons, Statesboro baseball team evened scores with Millen and took revenge for the loss of two on their recent visit to that city.

The first game of the series was pitched by McLean, who held the visitors at his mercy, and, with handsome support by his team, won the game by a score of 8 to 4. Martin was first on the firing line for Millen, but the hot weather and the batting eyes of the home team soon called for his relief, and Shepard was put up in his place, and was slightly more effective.

JULIAN QUATTLEBAUM PANNED

Wanted to Argue When He Fanned.

The second game was played Friday afternoon. Frese was on the mound for the home team and big Tom Hartley for the visitors. Frese pitched an excellent article of ball, while Hartley was unable to fool the locals much, and the score was 6 to 4.

The final game, which followed immediately after the second, was simply a farce comedy. First, Frese went in the box for the locals, then Ramsey and Suddath in quick succession. When, at the end of the seventh inning, a census was taken, the score stood 9 to 3 in favor of Millen.

WHAT ARTHUR MORRIS DID

He Fell Asleep at Second and Every Thing Went by Him.

The games were well attended, and it is believed that with a little improvement in the park, the attendance will continue to increase. The manager wishes to thank the police department for the order in which the crowd was handled. The post series will soon be played off, as the teams are tied at present, each having won 3 and lost 3.

Don't Take Chances
When baby's health is in question, you can't afford to take chances—it isn't necessary—it isn't even economical. You can't blame the doctor is baby's prescription is improperly filled by a bungling drug mixer.

Scrupulous Accuracy
is the first essential of successful drug compounding. Your physician's prescription, carefully compounded with fresh, pure drugs, will safeguard baby's health.

LIVELY'S DRUG STORE
Statesboro, Ga.
Complete line of the well-known Penslar Remedies

For Representative.

At the solicitation of my friends from all parts of the county, I have decided to announce my candidacy for one of the representatives' places in the next general assembly of the Georgia legislature. I will appreciate the support of all the voters of the county, and promise a faithful and just administration if elected.

I am a candidate for representative in the legislature subject to the democratic primary. I will appreciate the support of the voters, and will do my best to serve the people if elected.

I am a candidate for representative in the Georgia legislature subject to the August primary. I shall appreciate the support of the voters. I will endeavor to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability if elected.

To Our People.

GENTLEMEN: I offer as a candidate (of course subject to the approaching primary) for representative of our county in the next term of the Georgia legislature. I haven't sought the office and had no idea of running until the first Monday in April last, and now do so with the persuasion that many of our citizens desire me to represent our county. If this is true, you now have the opportunity to nominate me, and I will appreciate your support and the honor of the office. If not true, I don't want the place. To serve would be a financial sacrifice to me, but I am a citizen of forty-four in Bulloch, and always willing to do my duty.

Respectfully,
Geo. E. Wilson.

To the White Voters of Bulloch County: At the earnest solicitation of my friends I hereby announce my candidacy for Representative in the next Georgia Legislature, subject to the Democratic primary to be held on Aug. 21st, and if elected I promise a faithful and upright administration of the duties of the office. Now for the benefit of the voters I hereby give you my position on a few of the important questions in Georgia:

1st. I believe in the masses ruling, and not the classes.
2nd. I believe that the people should pass directly on all important legislations in which they are affected.
3rd. I believe in such laws as will best serve all the children in Georgia to obtain the very best education at the lowest possible cost.

4th. I believe that the people should have a chance to vote on the liquor question in Georgia, and that local option is the best and only solution of the liquor problem.

5th. I believe that the present laws could be amended to a great advantage to the masses of the people.
6th. I do not believe that the dogs in country should be taxed leaving the towns to levy a tax if they so desire.

7th. I believe in such laws as will best build up the agricultural interest of the state and protect the farmers.

8th. I do not believe that laws should be made that are too drastic, unjust, or unreasonable, but that they should always be within the bounds of reason.

Yours truly,
R. LESTER JOHNSON.

For State Senator.
To the Citizens of Bulloch County: Having a laudable ambition to represent my county and district in the Georgia state senate, and my friends requesting that I make the race, I hereby announce as a candidate for the office of senator from this, the 17th senatorial district, to be voted for in the Democratic primary to be held the present year. I shall appreciate the support of the citizens of my county, and if elected I shall perform the duties of this office to the best of my ability. Respectfully,
C. H. PARRISH.

For Solicitor General.
To the White Voters of the Middle Circuit (consisting of Emanuel, Jefferson, Jenkins, Screven, Toombs, Washington and Bulloch Counties): I am a candidate for Solicitor General of the Middle Circuit, subject to the State Democratic primary election for 1912. I was born in Screven county in 1867. I have been practicing law continuously at Statesboro, Ga., since 1890. I am anxious to meet all the people of the circuit, and will try to do so during the campaign. From the bottom of a grateful heart, I will appreciate your vote and your influence.

If elected "I do swear that I will faithfully and impartially, and without fear, favor or affection, discharge my duties as solicitor general, and will take only my lawful fees of office. So help me God." This is the oath which I shall take and keep, and it will be my earnest endeavor to serve you faithfully.

Respectfully,
R. LESTER JOHNSON,
Statesboro, Ga.

I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for re-election to the office of solicitor general of the Middle circuit subject to the action of the democratic primary. I will appreciate the support of the white voters of the circuit.

Respectfully,
ALFRED HERRINGTON.

BANK OF STATESBORO
CAPITAL, $75,000
SURPLUS, $40,000
ESTABLISHED 1894
J. L. COLEMAN, President
W. C. PARKER, Vice-President
S. C. GROOVER, Cashier
DIRECTORS: J. L. COLEMAN, W. C. PARKER, J. L. MATHIAS, E. T. OUTLAND, W. H. ELLIS, S. C. GROOVER, J. L. COLEMAN

THE Bank that has been doing a safe and conservative business for 18 years, and will appreciate your bank account.

A Successful Physician.
"Christy, Ind., Oct. 20, 1908.—Enclosed find check for last invoice of Mendenhall's Chili Tonic. One of our leading physicians uses it right along in his practice with good success. Geo. E. Niles, Druggist." Sold on a guarantee by druggists.

Money to Loan.
I have a connection with a large insurance company desiring to loan some money in this section. Any amount desired will be considered. Terms very reasonable.

Geo. L. WILLIAMS,
Metter, Ga.

Not all paint is good for tin. We use the right kind. It is our business to know about these things.

Can we serve you?
P. F. WEEKS,
Tin and Sheet Metal Worker
STATESBORO, GA.

Doors that Stand Close Inspection
are the only kind we make. Couldn't afford to make or handle an inferior door any more than you can afford to buy one. We manufacture dependable millwork of every description and ask your inquiries for Sash, Doors, Blinds, etc. Complete house bills a specialty.

Augusta Lumber Co.,
AUGUSTA, GA.
"BUY OF THE MAKER"

E. A. Smith Grain Co.
(Next Door to Postoffice)
STATESBORO, GA.,
Sugar, Flour, Meal and Feed Stuff.

We carry a line of Feed Stuff, and give out-of-town orders special attention. Our drays give prompt delivery to the city trade. Give us a trial order.

Phone 171

Henry Johnson
CONTRACTOR
AND BUILDER
STATESBORO, GEORGIA
Solicits an opportunity to estimate on your work, and guarantees first-class work at reasonable prices. Fifteen years' experience in construction work.

Brooks Simmons Co.

July Clearance Sale for Fifteen Days Only, Beginning Friday, July 26, 1912

Prices cut deeper at this sale than at any other time during the year.

Lots are limited in some cases, but reductions are all the greater. We do not allow the accumulation of back numbers; that is why our mark down sales are recognized as BANNER BARGAINS!

Shoes
Biggest Shoe Values in Statesboro!
We have arranged our entire stock of women's, boys' and children's fine oxfords and pumps to be put on the market for quick sale; nothing reserved; we want to clean up our stock to enable us to offer new, fresh goods; come expecting the biggest bargains you ever saw—you won't be disappointed.

Shoes
House Dresses
A splendid collection of ladies' House Dresses, of lawns, percales, and ginghams; new, fresh and beautiful goods, worth $1.50 to $3.00; clean up $1.19

Silks and Messalines
Any shade in our famous 36-inch Taffetas and Messalines, black, white, cream, navy and Copenhagen blues; regular $1.00 and $1.25 values; extra special for this sale..... 79c

Long Gloves
300 pairs long white, black and champagne $3.00 Kid Gloves, 16-button length; also a few 12-button length in black; $3.00 values; to close out.... $1.79

Leather Bags
Every Leather Bag, silk, satin, tapestry, etc., has been marked down to manufacturers' cost. In this sale you will find great values.

Millinery Department
Great Millinery Bargains!
All trimmed Hats must go, $3 to $10; beautifully trimmed with ribbons, flowers and stick-up; about 100 Hats in the lot, no two alike; Hats for old $2.89 and young, all to go at.....

Children's Fancy Top Sacks
Children's fancy Top Sacks—the kind every mother needs for her little ones—the real 25 and 50 cent values, to go at..... 9c

Gents' Ready-to-Wear
Owing to our large stock of Gents' Ready-to-Wear, we are offering the greatest cut prices we have ever given; 500 men's and boys' Suits to go at ACTUAL COST!
150 men's and boys' Straw Hats, worth $2, at.... 89c
100 men's Straw Hats, worth $3.50, at.... $2.10
75 men's Straw Hats, worth $2.50, at.... 1.69
300 men's and boys' Suits B. V. D. Underwear, worth $1, at.... 85c
250 men's Negligee Shirts, values $1 to $1.25, at 90c
150 men's Negligee Shirts, worth $1.75, at.... 1.25
100 men's Linen Suits, worth $6.50, close out at 4.00

Belts
Clearance sale of all odd lots of wash Belts, kid and patent lather; although Belts are very stylish right now, we will close out values to 50c, for choice this sale..... 14c

Lace Curtains
Lace curtains in white and ecru, as long as they last, at actual cost.

Bed Spreads
50 Bed Spreads, regular $1.00 to $1.50 values, slightly soiled, to close out at..... 89c

Misses' Dresses
A big variety and splendid values in these nicely-made misses' Dresses; you can make exceptionally pleasing selections from among them.
Ages 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, choice..... 39c
Ages 8, 10, 12 and 14, choice..... 79c

Ginghams
2,500 yards of fresh, new patterns of Amoskeag utility Ginghams, while they last..... 9c

Summer Dress Goods
5,000 yards of fancy figured Muslins, Batiste, Swisses and various other lawns of popular favor; most every known shade is represented in this lot; width, 32 inches; values, 12½, 15 and 20 cents per yard; clean up price, per yard..... 9c

Percales
500 yards of the famous Punjab Percale, in all colors and shades; regular 12½c values, to go at..... 10c

Ready-to-Wear Bargains
To make room for recent purchases of early Fall Suits and Dresses. These garments must go, and go quickly. This means every high-grade tailored Suit, silk and white voile Dresses; also 300 English Panamas and black voile Skirts at actual New York cost. The early buyer will find rare bargains in our ready-to-wear department.

Getting Money

How Bankers Now Perform Their Work

By JOHN M. OBRISON, Chicago

TALK of a "money trust" in this country has been inspired largely by the operations of "underwriting syndicates."

These groups of bankers have come to mean more and more in the financing of the country's industries. Their operations have enlarged at the same time that their co-operation with each other has become closer.

Whatever may be thought of the morality of this method of financing the needs of our railroads and manufacturing enterprises, the reason for the growth of underwriting syndicates is plain. They represent the reservoirs of ready capital. To them flow thousands of streams, big and little, of money seeking safe investment. To them come the managers of business requiring millions, and the managers come to them because it is the quickest, easiest, and (sometimes) cheapest place to get money. For instance:

New York's transit needs are pressing and great. Two extensive new systems of subways have been planned. Their construction and equipment will cost nearly $400,000,000. After long discussion the city officials decided that this sum should not be raised by the city itself, and so private bankers were asked to raise the money. The house of J. P. Morgan & Co. made an offer to finance one system calling for the expenditure within a few years of $170,000,000. Bonds running for fifty years and bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. are to be issued. J. P. Morgan & Co. are to pay the city $950 for each $1,000 bond.

Because the loan would be too heavy for one house to carry, J. P. Morgan & Co. have asked other bankers to take a large part of the bonds for $900 each. A syndicate, agreeing to hold together for five years, will be formed, and its members will sell to investors the amount of bonds allotted to each as they are issued. Probably the prices received will represent a good profit for each.

In no other way, say the bankers, could a project needing so much money get it promptly and on such good terms. In no other way, say they, can the millions belonging to widely scattered investors find investment. Upon the bankers falls the duty of seeing that the loan is secure. A few failures to do this, they say, would dissolve the "money trust" quicker than any moral action—and that view seems logical.

Perhaps the most marked trait of human nature in modern times, and that which distinguishes it most from human nature in ancient times, is pity.

It was the main contents of the Christian religion for over a thousand years. Almost all medieval religion can be summed up in that one word, pity. The good works most emphasized consisted in giving alms to the poor. The walls of the old churches are covered with languishing saints. The sufferings of the martyrs were wrought into works of art in every conceivable exclamation. We are the heirs of centuries of this kind of training. Sensitiveness to pain has become our chief moral force.

The history of civilization is the story of a long conflict with pain. We house the sick in hospitals and provide asylums for the unfortunate. Mankind's most boasted medical achievement is the discovery of anesthetics.

We have societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Our modern theology has abolished the fires of the next world.

We have even produced a sect that denies that there is any suffering in this world; like the Albany legislator who, introduced with the crime of bigamy, determined to put a stop to it and distributed a bill: "Be it resolved, That the crime of bigamy be hereby abolished." Happy thought! But I would like to put one little interrogation point: Is pain after all a bad thing? And is pity wholly a good thing?

I am very much interested, as every good citizen must be, in promoting the adoption of uniform laws on the subject of marriage and divorce throughout the United States. The present situation is very dangerous, for persons who are legally married according to the laws of one state may find that in another state their marriage is not recognized, and the effect upon the status of children may be most disastrous.

The consequence is that mistakes in this matter often fall upon persons who are entirely innocent, and great confusion is likely to exist in regard to the delicate relation of property may be very much embarrassed by questions arising from the conflict of laws on this subject.

There is a strong movement to promote an organization in the various states, and on some subjects this uniformity has been secured. I should be glad to see a strong public opinion organized, which will insist upon uniformity in the laws which regulate marriage and divorce, and I trust that any efforts made in this direction will be successful.

As far as fitting our children for business is concerned, the public schools of the United States are far inferior to those of European countries and far inferior to what they should be.

They are particularly deficient in foreign language instruction.

The systematic education of 90 per cent. of our public school children ends with their graduation.

Commercial methods and foreign languages must be made part of the public school course.

A boy or girl of fourteen ought at least to know enough of the social, religious and political customs and the language of the people with whom he may one day have to do business to what his appetite for more. This is a business age.

The average American school boy, after eight years in public school, doesn't know where the principal cities in the United States are located.

TAX EXEMPTION GOES TO LEASES

JUDGE NEWMAN HANDS DOWN DECISION IN TAX EXEMPTION CASES.

STATE LOSES ON DECISION

Federal Court Holds That Only the Terminal Property Is Subject. State Will Appeal the Case.

Atlanta.—Judge Newman, in the Federal court, handed down a decision against the state in the effort to kill an ad valorem tax from the leases of the Georgia road. He held that this tax could apply only to the terminal property here, valued at $2,000,000, which is partly a victory for the state. Judge Newman held that the tax exemption of the Georgia road descended to the lessees. The state will take an appeal to the United States court of appeals.

Judge Newman rendered a decision in the case of the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line railroads against the state comptroller general to restrain him from subjecting the property of the Georgia railroad, leased by the two systems, to an ad valorem tax.

By the decision the state loses the tax income on property valued at $2,000,000, unless the United States court of appeals reverses the decision. Counsel for the state gave notice of an appeal.

More Settlers for Georgia. The colony of fifteen or more Indiana farmers who are preparing to transplant their interests to the territory about Macon, where they propose to engage in truck gardening, is but one of many recent instances that show a Georgia drift of desirable settlers from the West.

Within the past year scores of families from beyond the Mississippi have come to live in this state, particularly in its southern portion. With them have brought an intelligence and an energy for good work and a capacity for good citizenship. In some cases, they have brought with them the will to add to the state's productive power and increase its general wealth.

Georgia's inducements to homeseekers and investors are varied and abundant. It is only within the past few years, however, that there has been anything like an organized effort to bring these opportunities to the state's attention. Not until recently have we begun to give as a state what the individual business man has long known—the value and the necessity of persistent advertising.

An excellent beginning in this field of enterprise has at length been made. Our railroads and chambers of commerce and other business or civic organizations are heralding the state's name and resources. Let them continue this work, and the returns will be more and more gratifying.

Boil Weevil Due Next Year. The Mexican boll weevil may be in the southwestern part of Georgia next year. The little pest is devastating cotton crops in the center of the southern portion of Alabama and is traveling at the rate of 50 miles a year.

This was the information imparted to the committee on appropriations of the general assembly by Governor Ernest Knapp and was given as one of the reasons why the state should appropriate $25,000 to co-operate with the federal government in farm demonstration work.

The government is working with the farmers of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, to exterminate the boll weevil. The demonstration work alone is estimated to be worth $5,000,000 to the farmers of Georgia, and if the work can keep down the loss in the cotton crop which is bound to follow the invasion of the boll weevil, it will be worth many million dollars more.

"We are not asking the state of Georgia for one cent," declared Mr. Knapp. "If the state wants to appropriate this $25,000 to co-operate with the government in the work we'll be glad to have it. The government is spending $48,000 a year in Georgia to help the farmers in their work."

Famed Belled Buzzard Caught. J. E. Ledford, who lives on R. P. D. No. 2, five miles east of Marietta, captured the much-famed belled buzzard in his field. The bird was put on with a harness arrangement, a strap being placed around the neck, another around the body back of the wings, and these two fastened together with leather. The belt was a small one, some two inches high, of the cow-hide shape. Everything indicated that the bird had been well worn out, and the harness was well worn out.

Army Mourns Injury Corps. Army mourns the death of a private in the 10th Cavalry, who was killed by a bullet from a German machine gun.

Commercial methods and foreign languages must be made part of the public school course.

A boy or girl of fourteen ought at least to know enough of the social, religious and political customs and the language of the people with whom he may one day have to do business to what his appetite for more. This is a business age.

The average American school boy, after eight years in public school, doesn't know where the principal cities in the United States are located.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

WHAT THE LAWMAKERS OF GEORGIA ARE ACCOMPLISHING AT THIS SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The house bill of Messrs. Tipkins and Alexander prohibits the sale of all beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol. It was passed, without amendment, by the senate, by the vote of 35 to 8. The bill had already been passed by the house. It goes now to Governor Brown.

Five attempts were made to amend the bill, but all were voted down. Debate on the bill lasted a little over an hour, and when the call for the previous question was made the opponents to the bill made no further attempt to block the vote.

The amendments were voted down in rapid succession and when the main question was ordered the vote was as follows:

For the bill, Senators Aaron, Adams, Beauchamp, C. B. Black, A. O. Black, Bush, Copelan, Cromarty, Culbreth, Davis, Dickerson, Douglass, Duggan, Edwards, G. Graham, Hamlin, Hall, Hollander, Knight, Kincaid, Marshall, Mayson, Moore, Oliver, Owens, Prather, Roberts, Shaw, Shuler, Sheppard, Whitehead, Williams and Wright—35.

Against the bill, Senators Brown, Crawford, Ennis, Grovenstein, King, Mann, Morris and Spence—8.

Not voting: Senator Hill.

Senator W. D. Dickerson offered an amendment to strike out the clause allowing one-half of one per cent. of alcohol, making the bill apply to any alcoholic liquor.

Senator C. B. Graham offered an amendment to put the initiative for the enforcement of the law on the various county sheriffs, instead of on the governor.

Senator W. S. Mann offered to amend by referring the measure to the vote of the people.

Senator W. D. Crawford offered to amend by striking the clause that "liquor" shall be held to include any liquid used as a beverage and any proprietary medicine.

Senator J. B. Douglas of the Twenty-first offered to amend by striking the clause barring any proprietary medicine that can be used as a beverage, and this was taken up first for debate. He spoke briefly in favor of the bill, and then he began to read the bill, and he read it so long that the house adjourned.

Within fifteen minutes after it had been known that the senate had passed the Alexander-Tipkins substitute, the bill advocates and opponents of the measure began to flock to the governor's office, the advocates to urge that he approve the law and the opponents to insist that he veto it. To some of the callers the governor indicated what he would do. He contented himself with simply stating that the bill had not yet reached him and until he received it and read it, he would make no comment upon it. It will probably be two, or three days before the bill gets into the hands of the governor, as the senate clerk must first engage the governor's attention. Not until recently have we begun to give as a state what the individual business man has long known—the value and the necessity of persistent advertising.

An excellent beginning in this field of enterprise has at length been made. Our railroads and chambers of commerce and other business or civic organizations are heralding the state's name and resources. Let them continue this work, and the returns will be more and more gratifying.

Boil Weevil Due Next Year. The Mexican boll weevil may be in the southwestern part of Georgia next year. The little pest is devastating cotton crops in the center of the southern portion of Alabama and is traveling at the rate of 50 miles a year.

This was the information imparted to the committee on appropriations of the general assembly by Governor Ernest Knapp and was given as one of the reasons why the state should appropriate $25,000 to co-operate with the federal government in farm demonstration work.

The government is working with the farmers of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, to exterminate the boll weevil. The demonstration work alone is estimated to be worth $5,000,000 to the farmers of Georgia, and if the work can keep down the loss in the cotton crop which is bound to follow the invasion of the boll weevil, it will be worth many million dollars more.

"We are not asking the state of Georgia for one cent," declared Mr. Knapp. "If the state wants to appropriate this $25,000 to co-operate with the government in the work we'll be glad to have it. The government is spending $48,000 a year in Georgia to help the farmers in their work."

Famed Belled Buzzard Caught. J. E. Ledford, who lives on R. P. D. No. 2, five miles east of Marietta, captured the much-famed belled buzzard in his field. The bird was put on with a harness arrangement, a strap being placed around the neck, another around the body back of the wings, and these two fastened together with leather. The belt was a small one, some two inches high, of the cow-hide shape. Everything indicated that the bird had been well worn out, and the harness was well worn out.

Army Mourns Injury Corps. Army mourns the death of a private in the 10th Cavalry, who was killed by a bullet from a German machine gun.

Commercial methods and foreign languages must be made part of the public school course.

A boy or girl of fourteen ought at least to know enough of the social, religious and political customs and the language of the people with whom he may one day have to do business to what his appetite for more. This is a business age.

The average American school boy, after eight years in public school, doesn't know where the principal cities in the United States are located.

FEAR CREEPING RAILS

DANGER THAT GETS ON NERVES OF RAILROAD HEADS.

Periods of intense heat or the steady pounding of long trains are the causes—frequently result in wrecks.

A railroad track, properly ballasted, bedded and fish plated, looks like one of the most solid structures in the world. That it would and can actually creep forward—rattle, rattle and all—seems almost incredible. Every double track in the country, however, has a most insidious habit of creeping forward—rattle, rattle and all—seems almost incredible. Every double track in the country, however, has a most insidious habit of creeping forward—rattle, rattle and all—seems almost incredible.

Walking on railroads is extra hazardous now that so many of the roads are operated by the double track system. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

The right way of a railroad, which owns the road and is not a public thoroughfare in the sense that applies to a street, a turnpike or a bridge, is to keep the tracks as straight as a line. It is a practice that is largely prevalent in all parts of the country and it is responsible for the great bulk of railway casualties which are recounted in the quarterly reports of the interstate commerce commission.

The number of railroad passengers killed nowadays is comparatively few. It is not that the roads are not safe. The roads are safe as a rule, but the number of persons who are killed while walking the tracks continues to increase year by year.

Natty Summer Styles

CARRYING with them a suggestion of grace, beauty and elegance; smart, low cut tops, snugly fitting the ankle without gaps—real oxfords. Shoes naturally intended for summer, because they are cool and comfortable. You will find that you will not only receive most solicitous attention at our store, but you will get the benefit of our long experience in fitting shoes; and a purchase at our store will be an event of mutual benefit.

THE RACKET STORE

L. T. DENMARK, Proprietor

City and County

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston returned last Friday from a week's visit with relatives in Burke county.

Mrs. Henry Mathews and children, of McDonough, Ga., arrived yesterday for a week's visit with Mrs. F. E. Mathews.

Rub-Me-Tism will cure you.

Miss Eva Martin and Mrs. A. B. Green returned yesterday from a week's visit with Mrs. Green's father, Mr. John Hughey, at Reidsville.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, after a visit of several weeks at Millen, returned yesterday, accompanied by her sister, who will spend several days here.

We have a nice line of furniture. Metter Hardware & Furniture Co. Miss Lena Bell Smith, who was stricken Sunday with appendicitis, was operated on at the sanitarium yesterday afternoon, and is now slightly improved.

After a visit of several days with relatives in the city, Mr. Y. O. Mathews, of McDonough, left Monday for an outing of several days in Philadelphia and New York.

Stoves, ranges, hardware. Metter Hardware & Furniture Co. Mrs. Sam Moore and Mrs. Guy Trapani and their children returned yesterday to Savannah, after a visit of several days with their parents, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Rountree.

Messrs. Brooks Simmons and George Rawls returned Monday from a ten-days' outing at Indian Spring. The trip was made in Mr. Simmons' machine and was an enjoyable one.

Roofing, paints and oils. Metter Hardware & Furniture Co.

The TIMES was the recipient last Saturday of a 50-pound watermelon from Judge T. C. Pennington, of the Landon district. Not only was it the largest we have seen this season, but its flavor was equal to it size.

Rub-Me-Tism will cure you.

An excursion over the S. & S. and S. A. & N. railroads to Augusta Monday carried several hundred negroes to that city. This is the first excursion ever operated in that direction, and proved a drawing card for the railroads.

The first bulls of upland cotton were displayed at the TIMES office Monday by Mr. J. A. Padgett, foreman on the farm of McDonough Bros. Co. Mr. Padgett states that his crop is in excellent condition, and a six-acre field of cotton is now beginning to open.

Deere Spring Tooth and Five Tooth, also Riding Cultivators. Metter Hardware & Furniture Co. His Honor Mayor McDougald had a profitable bunch before his court Monday as a result of the customary Saturday afternoon excitement. Three white men and two negroes turned $60 into the city treasury, their contributions ranging from $5 to $25.

5 or 6 doses of 666 will break any case of chills and fever; and it taken then as a tonic the fever will not return. Price 25c.

Rev. A. R. Richardson, of Brooklet, will preach next Sunday morning and evening at the Baptist

First Sea Island Cotton.

The first open boll of sea island cotton was left at the TIMES office Saturday by Mr. H. B. Davis, and was produced on the farm belonging to him and Mr. W. H. Ellis about two miles west of the city.

Messrs. Davis and Ellis have an excellent field of forty acres in cotton, which is now beginning to open, and they give promise of placing on the Statesboro market the first bale of the season.

Dr. H. A. Barrow, eye specialist, of Savannah, will make his next return dates as follows:

Claxton, at Claxton Hotel, Aug. 6-8; Lyons, at New Lyons Hotel, Aug. 7-8; Vidalia, at New Vidalia Hotel, Aug. 9-10; Statesboro, at Jaekel Hotel, Aug. 12-15; Metter, at McLean Hotel, Aug. 14.

Dr. Barrows' ability to remove the causes of eye troubles and other effects of eye strain is unsurpassed. Ask those who have had his treatment. Don't forget the dates.

Forty Members Added to

Corinth and Emit Churches

As a result of a week's meeting at each place, forty new members have recently been added to Corinth and Emit Grove Baptist churches. Of this number, 17 were received at Corinth and 23 at Emit Grove. Rev. T. J. Cobb, the pastor, conducted the meetings at both churches and did all the preaching.

From Cleveland in an Automobile. Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Donehoo, and their sons, Inman and J. P. Foy, arrived Saturday in their machine from Cleveland, O., having made the trip through in ten days. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raines, who began the trip with them, left them Wednesday upon their arrival in Atlanta, and came in Thursday morning by train.

Dr. Donehoo and party remained over a couple of days in Atlanta, visiting his father, Mr. J. W. Donehoo, who accompanied him home Saturday in the automobile.

Telephone Poles Wanted.

Two or three cypress telephone poles wanted at once. If interested, write or call on the manager.

STATESBORO TELEPHONE CO., Statesboro, Ga.

Prominent Negro to Visit

Statesboro Next Tuesday

Rev. C. T. Walker, pastor of the Tabernacle Institutional Baptist church, Augusta, will visit Statesboro on Tuesday of next week, and will speak at the colored school auditorium at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Rev. Walker is one of the best known colored preachers of the South, and is sometimes called the "colored Spurgeon." He bears the distinction of having preached to the millionaire, J. D. Rockefeller, who is a regular attendant of his church when in Augusta.

Pocket Book Lost.

On July 10th, either in Metter or on the road between that place and home, I lost a Mutual Fertilizer pocket book containing between $50 and $100. In one side were several $10's and in the other one or two $5's and several $1's. Finder will return to me or leave at Bank of Metter and get reward.

JAS. M. PARRISH, R. F. D., Pulaski, Ga.

Open Switch on S. & S.

Almost Causes Wreck

A serious wreck was narrowly averted Sunday night when the S. & S. passenger train going to Garfield ran into an open switch near the S. A. & N. depot in West Statesboro. A carload of railroad iron was standing on the side-track, and in contact with it the passenger train got a sharp shake-up, though no one was injured. The damage to the engine was sufficient to put it out of commission temporarily, and another engine was required to carry the train out of which left here at midnight.

The cause of the open switch remains a mystery.

Watson Presents Cotton

To Metter Supply Co.

Metter, Ga., July 27, 1912. BULLOCH TIMES, Statesboro, Ga.: Mr. Geo. W. Watson has just presented us with four well-developed, wide-open bolls of cotton, which was raised on his beautiful and highly improved farm near Metter.

Mr. Watson is well known all over this section, being one of our best farmers. He is also vice-president and a strong supporter of The Citizens Bank, Metter, Ga.

METTER SUPPLY CO.

W. H. ELLIS CO., Statesboro, Ga.

Veterans' Re-Union is

Most Delightful Occasion

The Confederate veterans re-union here last Saturday, while not so largely attended as in times past, was a most delightful occasion. There were a thousand or more visitors present, including about fifty members of the local camp of veterans.

Among the visitors who addressed the occasion were Hon. J. M. Slaton, candidate for governor; Hon. J. W. Lindsey, candidate for re-election as pension commissioner, and Hon. J. J. Brown, candidate for commissioner of agriculture.

Appropriate remarks were made by Mr. H. I. Waters, Rev. J. M. Langford and Rev. R. M. Williams, these latter reciting interesting war experiences.

A special table for the veterans was spread under the trees in Brannen's park.

Will Cut Watermelons

At Ivanhoe Saturday

An event of importance is the agricultural meeting at Ivanhoe next Saturday, which will be addressed by representatives of the government agricultural department and by local agriculturists as well.

In connection with the meeting, the watermelon growers of the lower part of Bulloch and upper part of Bryan counties, have announced a melon cutting, to which a special train will be run from Statesboro for the occasion, leaving here at 11 o'clock and returning at 3 p. m., the fare for the round trip being 50 cents.

A nursing bottle has been found that was used 5,000 years before Christ. Heretofore we had presumed that children of that early date boarded at home.

Sheriff's Sales.

On the first Tuesday in August, next, J. H. Donaldson, sheriff, will sell the following property at public outcry before the court house door:

The printing outfit complete of the Statesboro News, comprising presses, folder, type cases, stones, frames, etc.; and by virtue of an execution against the Statesboro News, a corporation, and J. L. Mathews, Hinton Booth and J. C. Blitch, individually.

One tract of land in the 4th district, containing 12 acres more or less, the property of Jim Davis; levy in favor of R. N. Williams.

One red mare named Babe, and one mouse named Maudie, named Maudie; the property of William Moore; levy in favor of D. Barnes.

One black mare named Bessie, also a buggy and harness; the property of A. J. Moore; levy in favor of D. Barnes.

Ordinary's Court.

On the first Monday in August, next, the following matters will come up for disposition in the court of ordinary:

Petition of Mrs. Mary A. Gay for 12 months' support for herself from the estate of A. J. Gay, deceased.

Petition of Mrs. L. V. Daughtry for 12 months' support for herself and three minor children from the estate of Frank Daughtry, Jr., deceased.

Petition of W. H. Lanier for guardianship of the person and property of Florie Jones, a minor.

Petition of William Todd for administration upon the estate of James Todd, deceased.

Petition of Susie W. Brown for 12 months' support for herself and two minor children from the estate of L. W. Brown, deceased.

Petition of J. L. Wilson for guardianship of the person and property of Alva Wilson, a minor.

Petition of C. D. Marsh, executor of C. N. Marsh, for leave to sell the property of said deceased located in the 15th district.

EXCURSION FARES

To Atlanta, Ga., account biennial meeting Grand United Order of Odd Fellows (col.), to be held Sept. 9-12, 1912.

To Florida, Ga., account Annual Indian Spring Holiness Campmeeting, to be held August 9-15, 1912. Fares apply from points in Georgia.

For full information in regard to rates, dates of sale, limits, schedules, etc., apply to nearest ticket agent.

R. LEE MOORE, Statesboro, Georgia
Candidate for Solicitor-General Middle Circuit

"We, the Bulloch county grand jury, at the April term, 1912, knowing that Mr. R. Lee Moore is well qualified in every way, as a man and as a lawyer to fill the office of solicitor-general of the Middle circuit, take pleasure in giving him our unqualified endorsement, and we recommend him to all the voters in the Middle circuit for said office."

GEORGIA—BULLOCH COUNTY. This is to certify that the above is a true and correct extract from the general presentments of the grand jury of Bulloch county, Ga., at the April term, 1912, as appears of record in my office.

Witness my hand and official seal, this June 25th, 1912.

A. E. TEMPLER, C. S. C., Bulloch Co., Ga.

Remember.	Stables for Rent.
Dr. Adams' Baby Powders is the surest treatment for teething babies and bowel trouble. For sale at Lively's Drug Store.	The Outland stables on North Main street are for rent. Apply to J. W. Outland or G. S. Johnston.

BULLOCH DRUG CO.

STATESBORO, GA.

Medicines, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Toilet and Fancy Goods, Perfumery, Colognes, Soaps, Powders, Combs, &c.

Rubber Goods, Syringes, Nipples, Nursing Bottles, Breast Pumps, Bands, etc.; Hair Brushes, Clothes Brushes, Tooth Brushes, Flesh Brushes, Nail Brushes, etc.

Your patronage is always appreciated, and no matter how small your purchases, you may rest assured it will be our constant aim to sell you the best goods that can be obtained and at reasonable prices.

Druggists' Prescriptions Carefully Compounded.

The Old Oaken Bucket

Filled to the brim with cold, clear purity—no such water nowadays.

Bring back the old days with a glass or bottle of

Coca-Cola

It makes one think of everything that's pure and wholesome and delightful. Bright, sparkling, teeming with palate joy—it's your soda fountain old oaken bucket.

Free our new booklet, telling of Coca-Cola vindication at Chattanooga, for the asking.

Demand the Genuine as made by THE COCA-COLA CO. ATLANTA, GA.

Whenever you see an Arrow think of Coca-Cola.

For sale by LIVERY'S DRUG STORE, Opp. Bank of Statesboro

Success Comes Quickest

to the man who has a checking account with a good bank;

Because he has a constant incentive to increase his balance and develop his resources, and because he has the co-operation of the bank in doing so.

A checking account opened at this bank, and conducted with financial betterment in view, will help put you in the successful class.

Begin now, even if with a modest sum.

Sea Island Bank

PREDICTS COTTON WILL

GO TO FIFTEEN CENTS

WILMINGTON EXPERT SAYS CROP IS

LATE AND SMALLER

Savannah, Aug. 3.—That cotton in September and October will call for a minimum price of at least fifteen cents per pound, is the belief of Mr. D. Hitzman, of Wilmington, N. C., who is in Savannah in the course of an investigation of crop conditions through the cotton belt.

Mr. Hitzman bases his belief that a rise of a very material nature is inevitable on the fact that growing plants throughout the good state of South Carolina are small and generally inferior in growth, and because of lateness of planting early frosts will destroy the plants before they will have attained their growth.

Mr. Hitzman speaks as the official representative of Alexander Sprunt & Son, of Wilmington, who annually handle five or six hundred thousand bales of cotton. He is one of the trained men in their service, on whose reports the policy of dealings of the firm for the seasons are based.

The lateness of the crop in South Carolina, as is the case throughout Georgia and the adjoining states, is, of course, due to the prolonged rains which made it impossible to prepare the soil for the planting of the great staple crop of the South at its usual season.

The inferior growth and generally poor condition of the South Carolina crop at this time is caused largely from the fact that it was practically impossible to work the fields properly in the face of general conditions, and the consequent lack of healthy tap-rooting, which has an important bearing on the growth of the cotton stalk.

"Conditions are not favorable now," says Mr. Hitzman, "and I believe, as do many others, that the cotton markets will move upward very materially with the advent of fall, and September-October cotton will undoubtedly go to 15 cents or better as a result."

The Complete Silver

Service in one Design

It is something that you would give keen pleasure all your life and become a treasured heirloom.

The complete service need not be purchased at once. There are many beautiful patterns in Sterling Silver that will be continued for years to come because of their artistic perfection. You can safely start your set with Knives, Forks or Spoons in one of these designs and add to it at convenient times until the service is complete.

Come in and examine our patterns in Sterling Silver. Perhaps you already have pieces of a pattern you especially like that we can match if you are ready to add to the set—that is much more than likely.

D. R. Dekle

Jeweler

Bank of Statesboro New Building

A Word About the Agricultural

School.

TO THE PEOPLE OF BULLOCH COUNTY:

The time has come in the history of the First District Agricultural School that any student who wishes to enter the school must make formal application to the principal some time before entering. This is true because there is demand for every available room in the dormitories. Last term we had to turn off students. Though we have built 14 more rooms, yet every indication at this time points to a great number being turned away for want of room.

The people of Bulloch are proud of the fact that the First is the largest by numbers of any District Agricultural school in the state. There have been some important improvements in the course of study and general plan for next term. We have a new course of study which gives all such helpful subjects as poultry husbandry, dairying, livestock, soils, fertilizers and the like for boys, and a most thorough course in domestic science and art and music for girls. Two new men have been added to the faculty.

Bulloch people are close by, and hence think they may bring their boys and girls on opening with out having made formal application. To such we promise no room. Remember that students from other counties have already applied and been accepted. They are applying daily; hence, this fair warning to Bulloch county people.

E. C. J. DICKENS, Principal.

Refuses to Vacate House

Flood Washes Into Street

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3.—Twenty years ago the cottage home of Mrs. Ellen Clark was moved from its foundations by the record high waters of the Ohio valley and deposited in the middle of 28th street, near the canal which leads from the head to the foot of the falls. The highway at that point is little used and the cottage was permitted to stay there.

United States engineers at work improving and widening the canal, however, have need for the ground on which the house stands. Although regularly condemned, federal agents offered her $125 to vacate, but Mrs. Clark held out for $500, declaring that she had been moved there against her will and would wait for nature to take its course when more high waters should move her back. Her valuation is considered absurd, and the federal officials with the acquiescence of the city, yesterday swore out a warrant charging Mrs. Clark with obstructing a thoroughfare and will prosecute the case to its finish.

HOOPER ALEXANDER IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

WILL MAKE PROHIBITION ONE OF HIS STRONG PLANKS

Atlanta, Aug. 1.—Hooper Alexander, of DeKalb county, in an announcement to-day, declared that he had decided to enter the race for governor of Georgia. He said that his campaign would not be based on the prohibition issue, but that this plank would be in his platform. His assessment has been paid.

Hon. J. Hooper Alexander for the last six years has been a member of the legislature from DeKalb county. He is a resident of Decatur. He was born in Georgia in 1858, and his father was the late Thomas W. Alexander, a prominent lawyer in Rome. He had an uncle also who represented Thomas county several years ago in the legislature. His people represent an old family in this state.

Mr. Alexander was the nephew of the late Dr. H. V. M. Miller, whose ward he was and who educated him at the University of Georgia. Mr. Alexander graduated there in 1879. He was a fine speaker, a splendid scholar and a popular man. He has a high sense of humor and prides himself more or less upon being a radical in politics. He was always associated with the progressive movement in Georgia and was one of Hoke Smith's leaders during his various campaigns.

He has always been an ardent advocate of prohibition and railroad regulation. His candidacy has been precipitated by the veto by Governor Brown of the Tipples bill. His entry at the last minute is dramatic, although it was predicted in some quarters.

He has just three weeks left and may be expected to make a very active canvass. He is an aggressive speaker. Mr. Alexander has been twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary H. Field, the second was Miss Amelia M. Hutchins.

At one time, in 1882, Mr. Alexander was president of the South Georgia Agricultural College at Thomasville. He is large, blond, with light, curly hair, smooth face and blue eyes. He can be relied upon to make things very lively in Georgia from now on.

He and John M. Slaton are political adversaries at every point and have often opposed each other in the general assembly. He has been fighting the so-called conservative crowd in Georgia for the past ten years.

Georgia Democracy on Trial.

(From the Gainesville Eagle.)

If the nomination of Woodrow Wilson means anything, it means a new deal for democracy. And yet Senator Bacon's friends are urging that we should put Bacon back in the senate. It is said in the North: Wilson is all right, but the old-line politicians of the party especially in the South, are reactionary and not in accord with Wilson's policies.

They know Bacon's record—how he voted with the republican stand-patters in the interests of the lumber trust—how he voted with the same crowd against free iron ore, and how in his affiliations and temperament he is identified with the capitalist interests, and has never had at heart the interests of the common people.

If we elect Bacon in August it will be used all over the North to show that the democracy is not sincere, and that it is still in the old ruts, and it will cause us to lose the Progressive vote. You cannot put new wine into old bottles.

$25 Reward.

We will pay $25 for the arrest of Cliff Hankerson, colored. He is a small, dark, ginger cake colored negro, weighing about 140 pounds; about five feet tall.

T. Z. & P. V. DANIEL CO., Milten, Ga.

HOUSE SUSTAINED TIPPINS BILL VETO

MANY WHO VOTED FOR MEASURE STAND BY GOVERNOR

Atlanta, Aug. 2.—The Alexander-Tippins prohibition bill Friday morning fell 29 votes short of the necessary 123 to pass it over the veto of Governor Joseph M. Brown, and a measure which has held the center of the stage in the Georgia general assembly for the past two sessions, relinquished all claims on life.

There were 94 members of the house of representatives voted to override the governor's veto, 69 voting to sustain.

By previous agreement the bill had been set as a special order for Friday, and debate had been limited to half an hour on each side. Advocates of the bill consumed in speeches all of the half hour to which they were entitled. Opponents of the bill declined to speak before the roll call begun, on the ground that enough had already been said. However, many of the opposition made vehement speeches while "explaining" votes. On the vote to override the governor's veto, many who previously voted for the bill voted nay.

Hooper Alexander failed to make his promised speech in favor of the passage of the Tipples bill over the governor's veto today. When the measure came up in the house of representatives, the opponents of the bill, led by Randolph Anderson, declared they were content to let the governor's veto speak for itself. Mr. Alexander then decided he would not talk for the measure, and several other friends of the bill also abandoned efforts to show the house that it should be passed over executive disapproval.

Watson Will Speak Here

Next Friday Morning

There has been manifest quite a little disappointment at the cancellation of Hon. Thos. E. Watson's engagement to speak here on the 9th. The TIMES last week published a letter from Mr. Watson in which he explained why he withdrew his name.

It will be interesting, therefore, to his friends to learn that he has reconsidered his decision, and in a telegram addressed to Mr. P. H. Preston, of this city, yesterday, authorizes the announcement that he will be here next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Watermelon Picnic at Ivanhoe Was Great Occasion

The watermelon picnic at Ivanhoe last Saturday, under the auspices of the watermelon growers of Bulloch and Bryan counties, was a most auspicious occasion, there being present not less than 1,500 persons.

Special trains over the Savannah & Statesboro railroad from both directions, and as far north as Garfield on the S. A. & N., brought hundreds, and the people of the community turned out en masse.

Agricultural addresses were made by Prof. J. Walter Hendrix, of the government agricultural department, and Prof. O. T. Harper, of the District Agricultural School. Prof. W. H. Cone and Mr. J. W. Wright, of the melon growers, also made appropriate talks.

An abundance of melons on ice were furnished by Supt. Bacon of the S. & S. and melon growers club, and dinner was spread by the people of the community. The day was both delightful and profitable.

Money to Loan.

I make five year loans at Six and Seven Per Cent interest.